Whereas in the opinion of the Inspector of Municipal Councils and Local Boards, Sri K. Karibasappa, President, Panchayat Board, Yerragiligi, Bellary taluk, Bellary district, has wilfully omitted to carry out the provisions of the Madras Local Boards Act and abused the powers vested in him by his following omissions and irregularities:—

(1) For the meetings held from 24th April 1939 onwards, meeting notices were served on only four members of the board, the strength of the board being nine.

(2) Though the president commenced the work of carrying out improvements to the main bazar street in the village as early as 2 th July 1940, it is still incomplete. He did not get the work checkmeasured by the District Board Assistant Engineer.

(3) He spent a sum of Rs. 54 on repairs to a district board road leading from Yerragiligi to Budampatty without obtaining the sanction of the district board, without inviting tenders and without an estimate for the work

(4) He withdrew amounts from the savings bank unnecessarily when he had heavy cash balances on hand,

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers delegated to him by Government under section 433 of the Madras Local Boards Act, the Inspector hereby directs that under section 43 (1) of the Madras Local Boards Act, Sri K. Karibasappa, be removed from the office of the said Yerragiligi Panchayat Board.

NOTE.—A detailed list showing the actual quantities in each class that will be offered for sale will be given to each bidder before the commencement of the sales.

2 The wood has been classified according to the classes noted above. Intending purchasers are advised to inspect in advance the lots put up for sale, but they must accept the classification made in the depot as final.

3. The various classes have been stored in the sandalwood godown in lots of 10, 15 and 20 tons for convenience, but the lots so exposed will not constitute an actual lot for which bids will be accepted. Each class of wood will be offered for sale separately in lots of 5 or 10 tons or less if convenient, such lots merely consisting of a certain quantity of the class of wood then being sold. Bids will be per ton of each class of wood.

The bids shall be advanced in multiples of Rs. 5 per ton and not less

4. The sale will be subject to confirmation by the Conservator of Forests, Salem Circle, who does not bind himself to accept the highest or any bid.

5 Before being allowed to bid, each intending bidder must pay an earnest money deposit of Rs 1,000. If paid in cash immediately before the sale, this should preferably be in the form of Madras notes for Rs. 1,000 or Rs. 500. A receipted Government treasury chalan for the amount will also be accepted. In the case of intending bidders, who have previously bought sandalwood from the Forest department, a cheque on the Imperial Bank of India for the amount will be accepted, but the discretion to accept such cheques rests entirely with the officer conducting the sale. This amount (the earnest money deposit) will be retained as security for the due fulfilment of the conditions 9 and 10 infra.

6. If two or more persons in partnership attend the sale with the intention of purchasing wood jointly, only one member of the partnership will be recognized for purpose of bidding and the deposit will be accepted in his name.

7. The earnest money deposit of unsuccessful bidders will be returned immediately after the sale is over, and that of successful bidders will be credited towards the third instalment of the purchase price.

8 Each purchaser shall, immediately a lot is knocked down to him, sign his name at the foot of the sale list, in the column provided for the purpose, and such signature will be held as an admission on his part of his having purchased that particular lot and of having accepted the conditions of the sale notice.

9 Immediately the sale is over, each purchaser, if he offer for any particular lot has been accepted by the Conservator of Forests, will be furnished with a memorandum showing the total amount due from him. He shall remit 25 per cent of this amount into any of the Government treasuries in the district of North Arcot or the Imperial Bank of India at Vellore or the Reserve Bank of India at Madras, within twenty-one days of the confirmation of the sale and another 25 per cent before the 11th September 1942, the balance of 50 per cent less the earnest money deposit referred to in condition 5 supra being paid on or before 10th October 1942 or against delivery, whichever is earlier. Should any purchaser fail to make the necessary remittances by the due dates the money already remitted will lapse to Government and the District Forest Officer will be at liberty to resell the wood in question at the risk of the purchaser who shall be liable for any loss, but shall not participate in any profit which may arise by the resale. The District Forest Officer will also be at liberty to charge interest at 6½ per cent per annum on overdue instalments. In calculating interest any overdue period of and below 15 days shall be treated as half a month and any period in excess of 15 days but below one month as a month.

10. After 50 per cent of the entire sale value has been paid to the credit of the Forest department, delivery of the sandalwood shall be made to the purchaser provided that until full payment has been made a quantity of wood equivalent to 25 per cent of the full sale value shall remain unremoved, but paid for.

The delivery will be by full lots at a time and no lot will be delivered by portions

11 On the purchaser's presenting chalans as proof that 50 per cent of the entire sale value has been paid, a proportion of the wood purchased will be weighed in his or his agent's presence and the quantity handed over to him as provided for in condition 10 supra. If, however, proof is produced that the entire sale value has been paid, the whole sandalwood purchased will be weighed and handed over. The purchaser must take delivery of and remove the whole of the wood sold to him on or before the 20th October 1942

Should any excess over the quantity paid for be found in the quantity purchased when weighing at the time of delivery, the excess will be paid for by the purchaser at the rate at which it was originally purchased before effecting removal. If any one purchaser has purchased more than one lot or class and if there is any excess in one lot or class and deficit in the other, when weighing at the time of delivery on a particular day, the value of the deficit noticed calculated on the rate at which the main lot or class was sold will be adjusted towards the value of the excess quantity noticed in the other lot or class as the case may be, and the balance, if any, still due from the purchaser will be collected before permitting him to remove the quantity delivered during the day. If, however, the net quantity delivered results in a deficit on account of drysge over the recorded quantity at the time of sale, the value of the deficit quantity at the purchased rate will be refunded in due course.

12 The accepted bidders, when deputing their agents to take delivery, must furnish each agent with a power-of-attorney duly stamped and bearing the signature of the person so deputed. A copy of the power-of-attorney must also be sent to the District Forest Officer by post, with four specimen signatures of the agent. Failing this, delivery may be refused pending verification in which case the delay will count against the accepted bidder.

13. No further cleaning or classification of sandalwood will be undertaken by the Forest department nor will purchasers be allowed to clean any wood previous to weighment. The classification, cleaning and weighment as determined by the Forest department, must be accepted

14. After the wood has once been weighed and handed over, if the purchaser fails to remove all the wood within the period allowed in clause 11, demurrage will be charged at the rate of Re 2 per ton per diem from the last date fixed for delivery until the wood is finally removed.

15. No sandalwood shall be removed from the depot till a license to remove it signed by the officer of the Forest department, who delivered the wood shall have been obtained and till every piece of sandalwood that can be stamped bears the department's 'sale hammer' mark.

16 The officer conducting the sale shall be at liberty to stop the sale at any time without giving any reason to the intending purchasers.

17. The wood purchased by each purchaser shall be in the depot at the purchaser's risk from the date of sale until it is removed

18 The purchaser shall bear the cost of taking delivery of sandalwood. The depot contractor will supply the required labour for taking delivery of the wood. No persons other than those supplied by the contractor will be allowed to enter in the depot premises.

19 Each intending bidder unless specially exempted by the Conservator of Forests, Salem Circle, Salem, on an application made in writing at least fifteen days before the date of sale, must produce a solvency certificate specifying the maximum up to which he is solvent signed by a responsible Revenue Officer of the district in which he resides, and the District Forest Officer holding the sale may refuse to allow any bidder not so exempted to bid beyond the amount guaranteed in such certificates. In lieu of the solvency certificate the bidders may deposit cash with the officer conducting the sale and they will be permitted to bid up to the value of cash deposited.

20 The purchaser should give at least seven days' notice of his intention to take delivery, to the District Forest Officer, Vellore West, Tirupattur, supported by bank remittance in token of payment. No delivery will be made on holidays.

21 Any supplementary conditions that may be found necessary will be added and read out at the time of auction.

22 The full quantity of wood advertised for sale will not necessarily be put up to auction.

23. Further particulars can be had on application to the District Forest Officer, Vellore West Division, Tiruppattur, North Arcot.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The amendment is intended to abolish Sessions trials with the aid of the assessors. Anybody who has got some experience of these trials would agree that in practice this system proves of no help either to the prosecution, or to the defence. Even for the judge trying the case it provides an facility in arriving at his decision. On the other hand, it causes inconvenience and trouble to the persons selected as assessors and is a useless burden on the public purse. Looking at a trial with the aid of assessors one feels that it is nothing but a farce and wonders as to how it came into vogue. But if we look into the old laws of this country we find that this institution of assessors has got a very interesting history behind. A glimpse into the early history of the administration of criminal justice in India can be had by a study of the Regulations promulgated in 1793. In that year an attempt was made to consolidate and modify all the current law and practice. Regulation IX of 1793 deals with the subject of criminal procedure and for a proper appreciation of the subject, I can do no better than quote from Article I of that Regulation, which is the same as the preamble to the present Acts, but much more explicit and historical. It says—

> "Pursuant to the Regulation by the President and Council on 21st August 1772, Criminal Courts, denominated Faujdari Adawlats were established in the interior parts of the provinces for the trial of persons charged with crimes or misdemeanour, and the Collectors of Revenue who were covenanted servants of the Company, were to superintend the proceedings of the officers of those courts..... By the same Regulation, a separate and superior criminal court was established at Moorshidabad under the denomination of Nizamut Adawlat, for revising the proceedings of the Provincial criminal courts in Capital Cases, and the Committee of Revenue, Moorshidabad, was vested with a control over this court, similar to that which the Collectors of the revenue were empowered to exercise over the provincial courts. Upon the abolition of the Committee of record at Moorshidabad the Nizamut Adawlat was removed to Calcutta and placed under the charge of a Daroghn or Superintendent, subject to the control of the President of the Council, who revised the sentences of the criminal courts in capital cases. The above arrangements continued in force, without any considerable alteration until the 15th October

1775, when the entire control over the department of criminal justice was committed to the Naib Nazim. The Nizamat Adawlat was in consequence re-established at Moorshedabad, and the Naib Nazim appointed native officers denominated Foujdars and assisted by persons versed in the Mohammedan Law, to superintend the criminal courts in various districts and to apprehend, to bring to trial offenders against public peace.

"This system was adhered to without any material variation until 6th April 1781, when the institution of Foujdars not having answered the intended purpose, the general establishment of both the Foujdars and the Tuncheers or police officers acting under them was abolished. Foujdari courts, however, continued in several divisions subject as before to the control of Naib Nazim as Superintendent of the Nizamat Adawlat, and the English Judge of the Courts of Dewani Adawlat was appointed magistrate, with a power to apprehend deserts or persons charged with crimes or misdemeanour within their respective jurisdiction, and commit them to the nearest Foujdari Court for trial. With a view to enable Government to superintend in some degree the administration of justice in criminal cases a separate department was at the time established at the presidency under the control of the Governor-General, to receive monthly returns of the sentences passed in the Foujdari Courts and for the assistance of the Governor-General in this duty, a Covenanted Civil Servant of the Company was appointed with the official appellation of "Remembrancer to the Criminal Courts." From the inefficiency of the authority of the English Magistracies over the Zemindars and other Landholders, the administration of justice in criminal cases was much impeded whilst the Regulation which vested the magistrates with the power of apprehending officers, but without permitting them to interfere in any respects in the trials, gave rise to a new evil. The Magistrates being obliged to deliver over to the Darogah or Superintendents of the Foujdari Courts, all persons charged with a breach of the peace, however trivial, many of the lowest and most indigent classes of the people were frequently detained for a long period in prison, whose their suffering often exceeded the degree of their criminality. The magistrates thereupon on 27th June 1787, were vested with authority to hear and decide on complaints of petty affrays, abusive names and other slight offences and under certain restrictions, to inflict corporal punishment, and impose fine on the offenders. But numerous robberies which continued to be daily committed throughout the country evincing that the administration of justice was still on a very defective state, and as these evils appeared to result principally from the great delay which occurred in bringing offenders to punishment and to the law not being duly enforced as well as to other material defects in the constitution of the Criminal Courts and as it was essential for the prosecution of the crimes not only that offenders should be deprived of the means of eluding the pursuit of the officers of justice, but that they should be speedily and impartially tried when apprehended, the Governor-General in Council passed certain Regulations on 3rd December 1790, establishing courts of circuits under the superintendence of English Judges, assisted by natives in Mohammedan Law for trying, in the first instance, persons charged with crimes or misdemeanours, and enabling the Governor-General and the members of the Supreme Council to sit in the Nizamat Adawlat (which was for that purpose again removed to Calcutta) and superintend the administration of criminal justice throughout the province. These regulations with the frequent amendments are now enacted with further alterations and modifications."

From the above it would appear that at that time the trial in criminal courts took place in accordance with the provisions of Mohammadan Law and as the English Judge had to be 'assisted by natives in Mohammadan Law.' The subsequent articles lay down the definite procedure of assistance. Article XXXIII lays down:—

"The Judges of the Provincial courts of appeal are to be judges of courts of circuits in their respective divisions."

The next article says:—

"The Cauzi and Mufti of the provincial courts shall also be the Cauzi and Mufti of the courts of Circuit in the several divisions....."

Thus it was the Cauzi and the Mufti who were to help the judge for finding out as to what was the weight of their opinion, we will have to look into subsequent articles. Article XLVII lays down the procedure of trial. It says:—

"The proceedings on the trial of prisoners are to be conducted in the following manner. The charge against the prisoner, his confession (which is always to be received with circumspection and tenderness) if he plead guilty, the evidence on the part of the prosecutor, the prisoner's defence, and any evidence which he may have to adduce, being all heard before him, the Cauzi and Mufti (who are to be present during the whole trial) are to write at the end of the record of the proceedings the fatwah or law as applicable to the circumstances of the case and attest it with their seals and signatures. The Court shall attentively consider such fatwah, and if it shall appear to them consonant to natural justice, and also conformable Mohammadan Law, they are to pass sentences in terms of the fatwah (except in cases in which they are expressly directed not to pass sentence) and to issue their warrant to the magistrate for the execution of it without further reference or delay .. ....". But in cases of death sentence the papers were to be sent to Nizamut Adawlat and it was not to be executed before their order.

The powers of Cauzi and Mufti who were appointed ostensibly only to help the judge were really greater than that of the judge himself. They were not to be the judges of facts only like a jury, but they had to determine the law also. This would be further clear from Article L, which lays down:—

"In trial of murder, the law officers shall deliver their fatwah or law opinion upon the case according to the doctrine of Yusuf and Mohammad."

Article LII directed that in case of non-Muslim witnesses the Cauzis and the Muftis were to be asked to give their fatwah on the presumption that they were Muslims, and if the judges differed from the Muftis, they could only refer the matter to the Nizamut Adawlat. As observed in Article XLVII, there were certain sentences prescribed by Mohammadan Law which were not to be enforced. In this regulation Article LI provided that—

"No criminal shall suffer the punishment of mutilation."

Punishment of cutting of two limbs was substituted by imprisonment with hard labour for 14 years and loss of one limb by imprisonment for 7 years.

With the passage of time, the variation in criminal law and practice from the Mohammadan Law became greater and greater. An idea of the change can be had from the preamble of Bombay Regulation XIV of 1827. It says:

"Whereas the principles of justice require that punishment to be inflicted on criminals and offences by which these punishments are respectively incurred, should be promulgated and whereas in conformity with this object and with the enactment of the British Legislature, it has been the practice of the British Government of Bombay to apply to its subject respectively their peculiar laws, modified and amended as necessity required by regulations passed and published, the courts of justice ascertaining the native law in each case, as it occurred, by a reference to the law officer of the religion of the offender; and whereas an enactment, which should enumerate various offences, and specify their respective punishments, the same being the general result of the practice of the courts, founded on the successive exposition of the law officers consulted must, to a considerable extent, secure the more steady observance of the principle of administering to individuals the law of their religion, by avoiding the probable variation in the exposition of different offences given each at the moment when the law is about to be applied, and whereas such an enactment will also combine the great advantage of superior publicity to the law, and of substituting a suitable discretion for the indefinite power conferred in numerous instances on the court by the exposition of the law officers, while it will also provide a Code easy of access for those individuals of the community to whom, as not being subject to any specific national or religious Code, of criminal law, the English law has with considerable inconvenience been hitherto applied,—the following rules are therefore enacted to have effect from such date as shall be prescribed in a regulation to be hereafter passed for that purpose."

Thus the laws were gradually changed, mostly on the lines of English laws and ideas. As an example we may quote the offence of adultery. It was considered to be a very heinous offence in the East, and under the Mohammadan Law the punishment meted out to the parties was death. In 1845, we find that a law was enacted prohibiting such punishment. Section I of Act 2 of 1845 provided :—

"It is hereby enacted that whenever any person shall be convicted of the offence of adultery by any of the courts of East India Company within the territories, subject to the Presidency of Bombay, such person shall be sentenced to fine or imprisonment or both, at the discretion of the court, and shall not be sentenced to any other punishment whatever, any law or regulation to the contrary, notwithstanding".

The second clause makes the position more clear. It says:—

"It is hereby enacted, that no person shall be admitted to prosecute any woman for adultery other than the husband of such woman, and that no person shall be admitted to prosecute any man for adultery other than the husband of the woman with whom such man is alleged to have committed adultery",

This Act was intended to soften the rigour with which the persons guilty of adultery were treated under the Mohammadan Law and the customary law of the land. Under such circumstances the presence of a Qazi or Mufti could no longer be required for the trial of the cases. No doubt the English system of trial was by jury and the Qazi or Mufti could be substituted by Jury, but it was also not considered advisable for reasons best known to the legislatures of the times, and the Qazi and Mufti came to be substituted by the two assessors.

It would be observed that according to the Article XXXIII of Regulation IX of 1793, Qazi and Mufti were not separately appointed for the criminal courts, but were taken from the Provincial Courts. The relevant portion of the article has already been quoted. It says:—

"The Qazi and Mufti of the Provincial Courts shall also be the Qazi and Mufti of the court of circuit in the several divisions ....."

Thus the removal of the Qazi and Mufti from the criminal courts could be effected without affecting their removal from the Provincial Courts and it was so effected, and we find the change in the Code of 1861, Section 334 of the Code of 1861 provided—

"In a trial before the court of session not by Jury, the trial shall be conducted with the aid of assessors as members of the court".

The significant word in this section is the word "Two". It gives an indication of the substitution of Qazi and Mufti by the assessors.

Qazi and Mufti, and Hindu and Muhammadan Law officers, were also later on removed by Act XI of 1864. The preamble of this Act is a very short one, it says—

"Whereas it is unnecessary to continue the offices of Hindu and Muhammadan Law Officers, and is unexpedient that the appointment of Qazi-Ul-Quzat or of City Town or Pergunah Cazees should be made by Government, It is hereby enacted as follows:—"

This preamble stands in remarkable contrast with the preamble of the Regulation III of 1793, which was a Regulation to extend and define the jurisdiction of Dewany Adawlut. It stated —

"The many valuable privileges and immunities which have been conferred upon the natives of these provinces, evince the solicitude of the British Government to promote their welfare and must satisfy them that the regulations which may be adopted for the internal government of the country, will be calculated to preserve to them the law of the Shastra and the Koran in matters to which they have been invariably applied to protect them in the free exercise of their religion and to offer security to their person and property."

Any way coming back to the question of assessors, the words two or more was kept up in section 282 of the Code of 1872 and also in section 284 of the Code of 1882, and even in section 284 of the Code of 1898. It may be expected that after an experience over this long period this farce would have been put an end to, but we are astonished to find that in 1923, the number instead of being reduced to zero was increased. The section 284 now reads:—

"When the trial is to be held with the aid of assessors, and less than three, and if practicable, four shall be chosen, from the persons summoned to act as such".

The Legislators in 1923 might have thought that by increasing their number, they would be able to make them a useful body. The number three seems to suggest that probably they thought that the judge would be helped by the decision of the majority, but in actual practice the number 3 and 4 has been no less a farce than the number 2 or more.

The increase in number has only added to the trouble of the public and increased the expenses of the State with no profit to the prosecution, to the defence or to the judge.

The abolition of assessors is overdue and it is with this object that I introduce this Bill.

ALLAHABAD,
Dated 20th September 1941.

MUHAMMAD AHMAD KAZMI.

(Republished by order of His Excellency the Governor)

P. APPU NAIR,

[As introduced in the Legislative Assembly.]

A Bill further to amend the Muslim Personal Law (Shariat) Application Act, 1937

XXVI of 1937. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Muslim Personal Law (Shariat) Application Act, 1937; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Muslim Personal Law (Shariat) Application (Second Amendment) Act, 194

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, excluding the North-Western Frontier Provinces.

Amendment of section 2, Act XXVI of 1937.

XXVI of 1937. 2. In section 2 of the Muslim Personal Law (Shariat) Application Act, 1937 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the words "in testate succession" the words "adoption, wills, legacies" shall be substituted.

Omission of sections 3 and 4, Act XXVI of 1937.

3. Sections 3 and 4 of the said Act shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Muslim Personal Law (Shariat) Application Bill of 1935 was intended to apply Muslim Personal Law to all Muslims of India irrespective of class, community or place of residence. It was in consonance with the desire of general Muslim public for the simple reason that it is considered not only to be the religious duty of every Muslim to follow that law, but in practice it is more equitable and just. It is difficult to describe what the customary law is—as it varies from place to place, and from community to community—but one feature of all such laws is that they give a greater control to the proprietor in the disposal of his property by way of Will and Adoption. Customary law is based more or less on Hindu Law, with this distinction that it has mostly adopted its bad points, while leaving behind its compensating good points. The powers of the head of a joint Hindu family in respect of ancestral property are much more limited than that of a Muhammadan head of family similarly situated—as the joint family system is not recognized by the Muslims. The other feature of the customary law—equally taken from the Hindu Law—is the deprivation of females of any share in property. To-day there is a general consciousness amongst the Hindus against this inequity and the recognition of rights of the females in the family property is gradually increasing. Under the circumstances it is no wonder that the Muslims are anxious to have their law being applied to them. For example, the Cutchi Memons who were governed by Hindu Law for centuries felt the necessity of adopting the Muslim Law and at their desire Cutchi Memons Act was passed in 1920 (Act XLVI of 1920). It provided that if a person made a certain declaration before an authority prescribed by the Government, "all his minor children and their descendants shall in matters of Succession and Inheritance, be governed by the Muhammadan Law". It was an enabling Act, and its object was that no person should be forced to change the old system for the new one, but only voluntarily. It is to be remembered that Cutchi Memons are one of those few communities in the Muslims amongst whom the customary law had got its greatest stronghold. As stated above the Muslim Personal Law Application Bill was introduced in 1935 with the intention of making the Muslim Personal

Law compulsorily applicable to all the classes of Muslims. It was circulated for eliciting opinion and referred to a Select Committee which meant that the House had accepted the Bill. The Select Committee made a report with certain changes but kept the principle of compulsory application of the Act intact. When the Bill came up for consideration before the House, Mr. Jinnah gave certain amendments which were intended to leave 'adoption', 'Wills', and 'Legacies' to the option of the proprietor. In putting his amendment before the House Mr. Jinnah said:

> "As I pointed out in reply to a question that was put to me on another occasion about Cutchi Memons, I think, I may inform the House—and that is my information and these are the facts that by voluntary method, by persuasive method more than half the Cutchi Memons have come under that declaration and the Mahommadan Law applied to them. We do not give up, we are only trying to apply persuasive methods, voluntary method, ... Therefore let us try this method which has proved to a great extent to be successful, but, if ultimately we find that we have exhausted that persuasive and voluntary method, and if this House then thinks that, even with regard to adoption as well as legacies, the Muslim Personal Law should be made applicable, we shall consider it. There is no giving up or committing or committing ourselves in any way".

In this way the proposed clause 2 of the Bill was split up into sections 2 and 3 of the present Act.

After sometime we find that the Cutchi Memons Act XLVI of 1938 was itself substituted by Act X of 1938, and the application of Muslim Personal Law was no longer left to the option of a Cutchi Memon but made compulsory. The Bill which ultimately was passed into law was introduced by Mr. Abdul Razak Haji Abdul Sattar—who probably belongs to that community. In the Statement of Objects and Reasons he said:

> "Sufficient time has passed since the passing of the Cutchi Memons Act of 1920 and large number of people of the Cutchi Memon community have taken advantage of the same. However, there is a minority which still persists in being governed by the customary laws and that tends to complicate matters. In order to bring about uniformity, it is highly desirable that entire Cutchi Memon community should be governed by the Mahommadan Law".

As mentioned before the Bill was passed into Act in 1938, and one of the most orthodox community so far as customary law is concerned is to-day governed by Muslim Personal Law. The very community which was kept as an example at the time of the enactment of the present law has now been converted to believing in compulsory application of Muslim Law and there is no reason why Muslim Law should not now similarly be so applied to all. As stated by Mr Abdul Razak, I have no doubt that there would yet be a minority which may still persist in being governed by the customary law, but in the interest of uniformity and avoiding the uncertainties of customary law—many cases may be cited in which the parties have been misled in the ascertainment of the details of customary law and the factum of its applicability to the parties—it is high time that legislation to this effect should be passed. With this view I am introducing this Bill.
